MAKING THE RIGHT CONNECTIONS: POST-TEST ADMINISTRATOR INSTRUCTIONS

1. Administer the NEAR TRANSFER text first, followed by the FAR TRANSFER texts, in the coversheet order.
2. Have the administrator copy on a clipboard in front of you with timer and red or blue pen.
3. Place the FIRST TEXT in front of the student.
4. *Start your audio recorder. State the SCHOOL, DATE, and SUBJECT NUMBER.
5. Read BOLDED directions aloud to the student WORD-FOR-WORD.

---

1. NEAR TRANSFER PASSAGE: READ & MAKE CONNECTIONS

Flip to the first text in your packet. For this text, we will do a few activities. First, we will read the text together, just like we do during our reading group. I'll read to a letter, and then you'll read the same text that I read. Then, I'll ask a question, and you'll make a connection. Ready? This text is a *(biography/story about/called TITLE) Proceed with reading and asking questions, just as you would during intervention. Provide feedback according to your child's condition, and record responses on Prompting Sheet.

---

2. NEAR TRANSFER PASSAGE: RETELL

REMOVE THE TEXT from the student's view. Now, let's pretend I am a friend from your class, and I want to know all about what happened in the text. Please tell me as much about the text as you can remember. What happened first/what did you learn first?

As needed, prompt the student by saying, "What happened next/what did you learn next?" until the student has finished retelling. If the student does not say anything when prompted, or does not tell the very end of the text, say, "Is there anything (else) about the text that you'd like to tell me?"

After the student has finished retelling, say: Thanks for telling me about what you read!

---

3. NEAR TRANSFER PASSAGE: ORAL READING

Place the SAME TEXT back in front of the student. Now, I'm going to ask you to read it one more time. When I say, "BEGIN," start reading aloud on the top of the page, with the first word *(point to first word, NOT the title). READ ACROSS THE PAGE and then go to the next line (point to the first word, across the first line, and to the beginning of the second line). Try to read EACH WORD. If you come to a word that you DON'T KNOW, I'll tell it to you. Be sure to do your BEST READING. Okay?" (pause).

"Ready? Begin."

Start the timer when the student says the first word. If the student fails to say the first word after 3 seconds, say the word, mark it as incorrect, then start the timer. Do NOT correct word-reading errors from here on.

Follow along on your copy, mark errors by putting a slash (/) through words read incorrectly.
To track errors: Miscue (/); Omissions =(/); 3-second hesitation (/);
Reversal (word } word); Self-Correct

At 60 seconds – the timer sounds – say: "STOP". Place a (]) after the LAST COMPLETE WORD the child said.

PROCEED TO FAR TRANSFER. FOLLOW THE TEXT ORDER ON YOUR COVERSHEET.

FAR TRANSFER PASSAGE: READ & RETELL

Flip to the next text. Now, I'd like you to read another text to me. Please do your best reading. After you read, I'll ask you to tell me about what you read. Then, you'll read the text one more time.

Point to the title and say, This text is a *(biography/story about/called) (read & point to the title). Go ahead and start reading. (Provide word reading error corrections as needed. Supply word for miscues or hesitations > 3 sec.)

When the student has read the entire text, say: Thank you for reading!

REMOVE THE TEXT from the student's view. Now, let's pretend I am a friend from your class, and I want to know all about what happened in the text. Please tell me as much about the text as you can remember. What happened first/what did you learn first?

As needed, prompt the student by saying, "What happened next/what did you learn next?" until the student has finished retelling. If the student does not say anything when prompted, or does not tell the very end of the text, say, "Is there anything else about the text that you'd like to tell me?"

After the student has finished retelling, say: Thanks for telling me about what you read!

FAR TRANSFER PASSAGE: ORAL READING

Place the SAME TEXT back in front of the student. Now, I'm going to ask you to read it one more time. When I say, "BEGIN," start reading aloud on the top of the page, with the first word *(point to first word, NOT the title). READ ACROSS THE PAGE and then go to the next line (point to the first word, across the first line, and to the beginning of the second line). Try to read EACH WORD. If you come to a word that you DON'T KNOW, I'll tell it to you. Be sure to do your BEST READING. Okay?" (pause).

"Ready? Begin."

Start the timer when the student says the first word. If the student fails to say the first word after 3 seconds, say the word, mark it as incorrect, then start the timer. Do NOT correct word-reading errors from here on.

Follow along on your copy, mark errors by putting a slash (/) through words read incorrectly.
To track errors: Miscue (/); Omissions =(/); 3-second hesitation (/);
Reversal (word } word); Self-Correct

At 60 seconds – the timer sounds – say: "STOP". Place a (]) after the LAST COMPLETE WORD the child said.

Now, we'll do the SAME thing with one more text. (Place the third text in front of the student, and repeat the read, retell, and oral reading procedures.

Miscues (each miscued word is counted as 1 error)

Substitutions
Student says, "Ann" when the name in the passage was "Anna".
Student says, "can't" for the words, "can not".
Student says, "a" when the word in the passage was "the".
Student says, "apples and oranges" when the passage was, "oranges and apples"
NOTE: This last example would be 2 errors because both words were missed. This is not a reversal because the words are not immediately next to each other in the text.
Mispronunciations
Student says, "bean" when the word in the passage was "been".
Student says, "clothe" when the word in the passage was "cloth".
Adding or deleting endings
Student says, "smallest" when the word in the passage was "small".
Student says, "reading" when the word in passage was "read".
Student says, "thing" when the word in the passage was "things".
Other potential errors
When a passage has the word, "t-shirt", and the student says "shirt", then the whole word is incorrect.
Any abbreviation should be counted as a word and pronounced as the word – Mrs. Smith = Missus Smith.

Omissions (Each word omitted is counted as 1 error)

When a word, words, or a whole line is left out by the student.
Text says: The bird was big. Student says: The bird big.

Reversals (Each pair of words reversed is counted as 1 error)

When a student reverses 2 continuous words as they appear in the text.
Student says, "enough old" when the passage was, "old enough".
NON EXAMPLE: Student says, "apples and oranges" when the passage was,
"oranges and apples" (this is a MISCUE and counts as 2 errors – see above).

Hesitations lasting 3 seconds (Each hesitation of 3 seconds is counted as 1 error)

Apply the 3-second rule to any hesitation:
Student says, "The teacher wa…wat…(3 seconds). Student is told "watched". Error is recorded.
If the student gives the word correctly before 3 seconds, no error is recorded.
Student says, "The teacher wat..(2 sec)...watched… Student is allowed to continue on own. No error is recorded.

Non-Errors

Self Corrections
The student says, "She couldn't watch…could not watch the game," when the passage read, "She could not watch the game."
The student says, "He was happily playing when the others…playing happily when the others…"
when the passage read, "He was playing happily when the others…"
Repeated words
The student says, "The party was very…party was very nice."
Inserted words
The student says, "The party was really very nice,"
when the sentence originally was, "The party was very nice."
Dialectic differences
The student says, "The cah is pahked in the garage," when the sentence reads, "The car is parked in the garage."
The student is very young and says, "The twee was weally tall," when the sentence reads, "The tree was really tall."
The student has a slight lisp and says, "The thanta at the thtore was very busy," when the sentence read, "The Santa at the store was very busy."