Question A

Why did Anne move to Alabama to live with Helen's family?

THINK of a connection… LOOK BACK at the text… CONNECT IT!

Anne moved to Alabama to live with Helen's family …

QUESTION A:

Why did Anne move to Alabama to live with Helen's family?

Rephrase question if clarification/simplification is needed:
Why did Anne go to live with Helen's family?

CONNECTION:

Bold = necessary/sufficient part of text; Plain text = enabling/relevant part of text but not sufficient; Italics = inference to be made

- Helen was deaf and blind.
- There were few schools or teachers for children like Helen.
- Anne was a teacher who could help Helen.
- Anne was from Massachusetts.

(Helen needed a teacher, so Anne came from far away to help her.)

MODELING:

- First, let me THINK (point to THINK prompt) about what this question is asking. The question is asking why Anne went to live with Helen's family.
- Now, let me THINK about important parts of the text that connect to why Anne went to live with Helen's family. I remember the text saying that
  - Helen was deaf and blind and
  - Anne was a teacher who could help Helen.
- Let's LOOK BACK and check the text (point to LOOK BACK prompt). Can you find the part of the text where it says Helen was deaf and blind and Anne was a teacher who could help Helen? (Have student find the first part of the text listed above and read the important part aloud. If needed, point it out on the student's copy. Repeat with the second part of the text listed above.
- Now, CONNECT IT. (Call on original student to connect it.)
  - If student's connection makes sense: Now your connection makes sense!
  - If student still cannot answer, state your connection.

(NOTE: the modeling mentions that Helen was deaf and blind because it helps explain why she needed a teacher, but the student does not have to have this as part of their connection)

Question B

Why did she have temper tantrums?

THINK of a connection… LOOK BACK at the text… CONNECT IT!

She had temper tantrums …

QUESTION B:

Why did she have temper tantrums?

Rephrase question if clarification/simplification is needed:
Why did Helen have temper tantrums—(or fits of crying, screaming, kicking and hitting)?

CONNECTION:

Bold = necessary/sufficient part of text; Plain text = enabling/relevant part of text but not sufficient; Italics = inference to be made

- She did not understand what Anne was doing.
- She was angry.

(She was angry/frustrated that she did not understand what Anne was doing on her hands.)

MODELING:

- First, let me THINK (point to THINK prompt) about what this question is asking. The question is asking why Helen had temper tantrums, or fits.
- Now, let me THINK about important parts of the text that connect to why Helen had temper tantrums, or fits. I remember the text saying that
    - She did not understand what Anne was doing and
    - She was angry.
- Let's LOOK BACK and check the text (point to LOOK BACK prompt). Can you find the part of the text where it says she did not understand what Anne was doing and she was angry? (Have student find the first part of the text listed above and read the important part aloud. If needed, point it out on the student's copy. Repeat with the second part of the text listed above.
- Now, CONNECT IT. (Call on original student to connect it.)
    - If student's connection makes sense: Now your connection makes sense!
    - If student still cannot answer, state your connection.

Why could Anne now teach her the names of all the things around her?

THINK of a connection… LOOK BACK at the text… CONNECT IT!

Anne could now teach her the names of all the things around her …

QUESTION C:

Why could Anne now teach her the names of all the things around her?

Rephrase question if clarification/simplification is needed:
Why was Anne now able to teach Helen the names of things?

CONNECTION:

Bold = necessary/sufficient part of text; Plain text = enabling/relevant part of text but not sufficient; Italics = inference to be made

- Helen understood that what Anne spelled in one hand was the name of the thing in her other hand.

(Helen now understood what Anne was trying to teach her.)

MODELING:

- First, let me THINK (point to THINK prompt) about what this question is asking. The question is asking why Anne was now able to teach Helen the names of things.
- Now, let me THINK about an important part of the text that connects to why Anne was now able to teach Helen the names of things. I remember the text saying that
    - Helen understood that what Anne spelled in one hand was the name of the thing in her other hand.
- Let's LOOK BACK and check the text (point to LOOK BACK prompt). Who can find the part of the text where it says Helen understood that what Anne spelled in one hand was the name of the thing in her other hand? (Have student find the part of the text listed above and to read the important part aloud. If needed, point it out on the student's copy.
- Now, CONNECT IT. (Call on original student to connect it.)
    - If student's connection makes sense: Now your connection makes sense!
    - If student still cannot answer, state your connection.

Question D

How did she show that people with disabilities can lead successful lives?

THINK of a connection… LOOK BACK at the text… CONNECT IT!

She showed that people with disabilities can lead successful lives …

QUESTION D:

How did she show that people with disabilities can lead successful lives?

Rephrase question if clarification/simplification is needed:
How did Helen show that people with disabilities can be successful?

CONNECTION:

Bold = necessary/sufficient part of text; Plain text = enabling/relevant part of text but not sufficient; Italics = inference to be made

- Helen was deaf and blind.
- (Can include any of the following): She learned to communicate in many ways, went to college, wrote a book, became a famous speaker and writer, etc.

(Helen had disabilities, but was still able to do many important things.)

MODELING:

- First, let me THINK (point to THINK prompt) about what this question is asking. The question is asking how Helen showed that people with disabilities can be successful.
- Now, let me THINK about important parts of the text that connect to how Helen showed that people with disabilities can be successful. I remember the text saying that
  - She learned to communicate in many ways and
  - She went to college and
  - She wrote a book and
  - She became a famous speaker and writer.
- Let's LOOK BACK and check the text (point to LOOK BACK prompt). Can you find the parts of the text where it says she learned to communicate in many ways, went to college, wrote a book, became a famous speaker and writer? (Have student find each part of the text listed above and read the important part aloud. If needed, point it out on the student's copy.
- Now, CONNECT IT. (Call on original student to connect it.)
  - If student's connection makes sense: Now your connection makes sense!
  - If student still cannot answer, state your connection.

Question A

Why did the queen tell them not to leave the palace?

THINK of a connection… LOOK BACK at the text… CONNECT IT!

The queen told them not to leave the palace …

QUESTION A:

Why did the queen tell them not to leave the palace?

Rephrase question if clarification/simplification is needed:
Why did the queen tell the boys not to leave the palace?

CONNECTION:

Bold = necessary/sufficient part of text; Plain text = enabling/relevant part of text but not sufficient; Italics = inference to be made

- A giant spider had spun a web among the rocks at the base of the mountain.

(The queen was probably afraid that the spider would hurt her sons.)

MODELING:

- First, let me THINK (point to THINK prompt) about what this question is asking. The question is asking why the queen told the boys not to leave the palace.
- Now, let me THINK about an important part of the text that connects to why the queen told the boys not to leave the palace. I remember the text saying that
  - A giant spider had spun a web among the rocks at the base of the mountain.
- Let's LOOK BACK and check the text (point to LOOK BACK prompt). Can you find the part of the text where it says a giant spider had spun a web among the rocks at the base of the mountain? (Have student find the first part of the text listed above and read the important part aloud. If needed, point it out on the student's copy.)
- Now, CONNECT IT. (Call on original student to connect it.)
  - If student's connection makes sense: Now your connection makes sense!
  - If student still cannot answer, state your connection.

Question B

Why did the older son say, "Let's go on an adventure"?

THINK of a connection… LOOK BACK at the text… CONNECT IT!

The older son said, "Let's go on an adventure"…

QUESTION B:

Why did the older son say, "Let's go on an adventure"?

Rephrase question if clarification/simplification is needed:
Why did the son suggest that they go on an adventure?

CONNECTION:

Bold = necessary/sufficient part of text; Plain text = enabling/relevant part of text but not sufficient; Italics = inference to be made

- The boys wanted to explore the mountain AND/OR their mother said not to leave the palace
  AND
- Their mother was napping.

(Because their mother was napping, he saw a chance to sneak out.)

MODELING:

- First, let me THINK (point to THINK prompt) about what this question is asking. The question is asking why the son suggested that they go on an adventure.
- Now, let me THINK about important parts of the text that connect to why the son suggested that they go on an adventure. I remember the text saying that
  - The boys wanted to explore the mountain but their mother said not to leave the palace.
  - Their mother was napping.
- Let's LOOK BACK and check the text (point to LOOK BACK prompt). Can you find the part of the text where it says the boys wanted to explore the mountain but their mother said not to leave the palace and their mother was napping? (Have student find the first part of the text listed above and read the important part aloud. If needed, point it out on the student's copy. Repeat with the second part of the text listed above.)
- Now, CONNECT IT. (Call on original student to connect it.)
  - If student's connection makes sense: Now your connection makes sense!
  - If student still cannot answer, state your connection.

Why did he report that they had disobeyed their mother?

THINK of a connection… LOOK BACK at the text… CONNECT IT!

He reported that they had disobeyed their mother …

QUESTION C:

Why did he report that they had disobeyed their mother?

Rephrase question if clarification/simplification is needed:
Why did the servant tell the queen that her sons had disobeyed her?

CONNECTION:

Bold = necessary/sufficient part of text; Plain text = enabling/relevant part of text but not sufficient; Italics = inference to be made

- The queen's servant saw them leave the palace
  AND/OR
- The queen told them not to leave the palace.

MODELING:

- First, let me THINK (point to THINK prompt) about what this question is asking. The question is asking why the servant told the queens that her son had disobeyed her.
- Now, let me THINK about important parts of the text that connect to why the servant told the queens that her son had disobeyed her. I remember the text saying that
  - The queen's servant saw them leave the palace and
  - The queen told them not to leave the palace.
- Let's LOOK BACK and check the text (point to LOOK BACK prompt). Can you find the part of the text where it says the queen's servant saw them leave the palace and the queen told them not to leave the palace?(Have student find the first part of the text listed above and read the important part aloud. If needed, point it out on the student's copy. Repeat with the second part of the text listed above.)*
- Now, CONNECT IT. (Call on original student to connect it.)
  - If student's connection makes sense: Now your connection makes sense!
  - If student still cannot answer, state your connection.

Question D

Why did they promise they would never go exploring without permission again?

THINK of a connection… LOOK BACK at the text… CONNECT IT!

They promised they would never go exploring without permission again …

QUESTION D:

Why did they promise they would never go exploring without permission again?

Rephrase question if clarification/simplification is needed:
Why did the sons promise they would never go exploring without permission again?

CONNECTION:

Bold = necessary/sufficient part of text; Plain text = enabling/relevant part of text but not sufficient; Italics = inference to be made

- They went exploring even though their mother told them not to
- The spider caught them
- They had to be rescued by the hunter
  OR
- (Anything about how disobeying their mother put them in danger; COULD ALSO INCLUDE that they had learned a lesson, but need to explain the lesson they learned).

MODELING:

- First, let me THINK (point to THINK prompt) about what this question is asking. The question is asking why the sons promised they would never go exploring without permission again.
- Now, let me THINK about important parts of the text that connect to why the sons promised they would never go exploring without permission again... I remember the text saying that
  - They went exploring even though their mother told them not to and
  - The spider caught them.
- Let's LOOK BACK and check the text (point to LOOK BACK prompt). Can you find the part of the text where it says they went exploring even though their mother told them not to and the spider caught them? (Have student find the first part of the text listed above and read the important part aloud. If needed, point it out on the student's copy. Repeat with the second part of the text listed above.)
- Now, CONNECT IT. (Call on original student to connect it.)
  - If student's connection makes sense: Now your connection makes sense!
  - If student still cannot answer, state your connection.