

Book Week Events

Most events are free and open to the public. The reception costs $10.

2010 BOOK DISPLAY
Thursday, October 21, 12–6:30 p.m.
& Friday, October 22, 9 a.m.–noon
Johnson Room
McNamara Alumni Center

A pdf version of the current edition of New Books For Young Readers is available at apps.cehd.umn.edu/ci/k12books.

REVIEW OF NEW BOOKS
Thursday, October 21
4–5:30 p.m.
Memorial Hall
McNamara Alumni Center
Reception 5:30–6:30 p.m., $10
Tickets for the reception will be available at the registration table.

EVENING LECTURE
Thursday, October 21
6:30–7:30 p.m.
Book signing 7:30–8 p.m.
McNamara Alumni Center

Parking map and directions:
www.alumnicenter.umn.edu/directions.html

Celebrate 70 years of Book Week at the University of Minnesota on October 21, featuring

Christopher Paul Curtis

the author of Newbery Award and honor books Bud, Not Buddy, Elijah of Buxton, and The Watsons Go to Birmingham—1963

While he began his working life at the Fisher Body Plant attaching doors to big Buicks for 13 years, Christopher Paul Curtis was already writing in his journal. He and his factory partner worked out a schedule so that rather than taking turns, they would each hang every car door for a half hour and then have a half hour break, which gave him time to write. Happily for all his readers, his wife Kaysandra encouraged him to take a year off work and just write. The 1996 Newbery Honor and Coretta Scott King Honor Award winning book The Watsons Go to Birmingham—1963 was the result. Five other books have been published and widely acclaimed and enjoyed. Bud, Not Buddy won both the Newbery and Coretta Scott King Awards in 2000; Elijah of Buxton won a Newbery Honor Award and the Coretta Scott King and Scott O'Dell Awards in 2008. The importance of family is explored in all his books, and many take place in Flint, Michigan, the place where Curtis grew up.

Whether he's writing historical fiction dealing with prejudice and hatred or more light-hearted fare, Christopher Paul Curtis is a fine storyteller. In an author's note on the Scholastic website extolling the joys of family and writing, he stated: "I have a riot when I write. I laugh. If I knew it was this much fun, I would have started when I was four. I love it." If only he had started sooner, we'd have more of his books to read!

Questions? Contact Cathy Zemke at 612-625-7835 or zemke001@umn.edu

Book Week is supported by the Children's Literature Program, Department of Curriculum and Instruction (CEHD), University of Minnesota; by the Ruth Mitchell Endowment Fund; The Red Balloon Bookshop; and by the Children's Literature Research Collections, University of Minnesota. Books will be available for purchase and signing by the author courtesy of The Red Balloon Bookshop.

cehd.umn.edu/BookWeek/

Book Week 2010

with Christopher Paul Curtis
Reception, October 21

COLLEGE OF EDUCATION + HUMAN DEVELOPMENT

UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA

The University of Minnesota is an equal opportunity employer and educator.

Please detach and return with your check (do not send cash), made payable to the University of Minnesota, by October 14, 2010 to: Cathy Zemke, Book Week, 125 Peik Hall, 159 Pillsbury Drive SE, University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, MN 55455-0208.

Please reserve _____ tickets for the reception at $10 each for:

NAME _____

☐ Please add me to this mailing list.

ADDRESS _____

_____

EMAIL _____