Nonconventional EBD licensure program/EBD-Residency Based MEd in Special Education

COHORT 3 Fall 2017-Spring 2019

April, 2017

Jennifer J. McComas, Ph.D. jmccomas@umn.edu

Goal: To provide outstanding residency-type preparation of teaching candidates who have classroom experience with students with moderate to severe EBD and who are committed to becoming excellent teachers of students with EBD. Emphasis is on developing competencies in classroom practices with a focus on effective behavior support/intervention and rigorous academic instruction for students across a continuum of mild to severe EBD.

Candidates: Paraprofessionals who hold an undergraduate degree and have worked at least 1 year in a self-contained EBD classroom

Instructional Delivery: 4 semester , 9 cr per semester; combination of online, traditional lecture format, and competency-based residency-type clinical experience at least 20 hours per week for 15 weeks with coaching, feedback, and assessment. Each semester is designed to provide essential content and clinical experience and competencies in one of three main areas relevant to students with EBD: Behavior Intervention Planning and Implementation, IEP Process, and Instructional Planning and Implementation. Competencies in all areas, from behavior intervention to standards of effective practice to the IEP process will be continually assessed until the candidate meets the expected standard.

Classes in bold are those that are in-residence (on-site in school for at least 20 hours per week for 15-20 weeks per semester)
Classes in grey are tentative sequence, dependent on course offerings each semester. The sequence of the grey courses is subject to change.
All candidates MUST complete the courses in the order in which they are delivered and complete the program in 4 semesters. No changes to the program are permitted.
